

Great for covert stealth secret filming / surveillance applications. This Baseball cap camera has a high quality camera and audio microphone built inside, the camera is very well hidden inside the top front of cap. You can wear this baseball cap as normal and secretly film what is happening in front of you without looking out of place. The camera is mounted on the front of the hat as shown in the picture. It's wide angled pinhole lens allows you to film close up without losing your required image. The fixed focus also makes it possible to film from a distance capturing good clear images in both bright and dull situations. Very convenient for filming at home, work or leisure as you can wear this camera and discreetly point it to exactly what you want to film and record. The microphone is great too recording voices as far away as 5 metre's. These are remote controlled so you can start recording when required and you do not need to point the remote you can operate it from inside your pocket.
